

Horse Parts Shout Out

This is a simple and quick game where a member will shout out body parts beginning with a particular letter. Prize, no prize, however you want it to go. We gave 1 point for each answer and had the kids keep score themselves. Maybe separating into teams would be easier for score keeping.

This will work best if you:

- 1) print the cards on card or cover stock paper
- 2) print out the cards on a printer that can duplex so the letters are on one side and the possible answers are on the other side (so you can see the answers as you hold up the card). Orientation = Landscape // Print on both side = yes // Flip on SHORT edge

Or, just make your own “letter” cards...

On the back of each letter card are the well-known body parts beginning with the specific letter. There are more available answers and I delighted to see how many more the members were able to shout out. With some letters I couldn't think of any body parts so you will see a ? on the back of these letters.
